MUSIC WEEK IS AT HAND

Good Programs Are Assured—People of Northwest Missouri Should Support Work to Insure Continuance.

The Fourth Annual Music Festival, sponsored by the College, is only a few days off, May 1-6, and promises to be the best event of its kind ever held in this community. The people of Northwest Missouri want the best in music and have given such excellent support to the music festivals of the past three years that the College felt justified in giving to the public a better and more expensive week of music this year than ever before. The College, however, does not undertake a project of this sort with the idea of profit-making but with the thought of rendering an educational service both to the students and to the citizens of the entire community. The people of Northwest Missouri must give the same generous support to this music festival that they have given in the past in order to make it a financial success, thus making it possible for the College to continue to offer the best in music at succeeding spring festivals.

The opening event of the week of music is the recital to be given on Friday evening, May 1, by Ruth Houchens, Gertrude Belt, and Marie Cloud, graduates of the college conservatory of music, and by the college orchestra, directed by Mr. William S. Larson. The evening's program is as follows:

Overture, "Greeting" Mahl
Teachers College Orchestra.
"Habenera" from Carmen Bizet
Miss Cloud
Prelude in D Major Oldberg
Invitation to the Dance Weber
Miss Belt
Novelette Bendix
"Intermezzo" from Cavaleria

Carmena Wilson
Miss Cloud
Concerto in E Minor, Opus 11
(Fourth Movement) Chopin
Miss Houchens
Orchestral part by Mr. T. H.
Annett
Overture, "Raymond" Thomas
Teachers College Orchestra.

On Sunday evening, May 3, a concert will be given by the members of the faculty of the college conservatory of music, and by the children's chorus, directed by Mr. Charles R. Gardner, dean of music. Following the usual custom, there will be no evening services at any of the churches in Maryville. The children's chorus, consisting of about one hundred eighty voices, has been training for this event for several months under Mr. Gardner's supervision. The entire program for the evening follows:

Vesper Hymn Russian Air
Children's Chorus

S. T. C. Takes Fifth In Kansas Relays

S. T. C.'s Medley relay track team which Coach Lawrence took to the Kansas Relays Saturday, April 18, placed fifth in their event.

The team was composed of Frank Crane, "Dixie" Davenport, John Smith, and Mark Davis. Crane ran the 440 yard dash, Davis the 220, Davenport the half mile, and Smith the mile.

The "Bears" were handicapped from the start. In the drawing for places, they were placed in the seventeenth position. Crane and Davis are both new men on the track, neither having participated in a relay race before. At the beginning of his half mile "Dixie" was in the seventeenth place but at its end had pulled up to tenth. John Smith passed four during his mile, and finished in fifth place.

The relay was won by the Kansas State Teachers College team. The time was 7:45.6. This is slower time than the Bears ran the Medley relay at the Drake Relays last year when they stepped off the one and seven eighths miles in 7:40.2.

The team was accompanied on the trip by Coaches Lawrence and Jones, Mr. Glenn, Hugh Graham, Denton Peoples, and Gordon Fowler.

W. W. Stanfield's mother, Mrs. M. J. Stanfield of Houston, Texas, is visiting here.

LARGE CROWD SEES DRAMATIC WORK

Trenton High Wins First in Tableau, Bethany Takes First in Play—Art Awards are Announced.

Despite the shower early in the evening a large number of people came out to the Auditorium Thursday evening to enjoy the contests in tableaux and dramatics.

The winner in the tableaux contest was Trenton High School, portraying "The Indian and the Lily" by DeForest Brush. The winning group in dramatics was from Bethany High School, presenting "The Intruder" by Maeterlinck. The winning schools each received a silver loving-cup.

The winning tableau was exquisitely posed by Newton Rooks, a freshman in the Trenton High School. The difficulty of the pose of the Indian clinging to a grapevine as he reaches out to the lily and yet the ease with which the pose was held was remarkable. The color effect and lighting brought the whole of the tableau into a unified picture. A commendable feature of the presentation is the fact that in order to secure a good tableau the classes in the high school competed with each other and the winner here, the freshman class, presented the winning tableau. Miss Agnes Francis, a former student of S. T. C., directed the work of the freshmen.

All of the tableaux were good. Maryville presented Gainsborough's "The Blue Boy," posed by Helen Geist. Mrs. Virgil Rathbun was in charge. The background was an effective one in Gainsborough's style and added much to the effectiveness. The figure, however, stood out too much from the background, leaving the two parts of the picture separate and distinct. A blending of the two, perhaps by a gauze screen, would have added to the beauty of the picture.

Whistler's "Mother" was well posed by Hazel Yoder of Rosendale. The coach was Mrs. R. H. Watson, formerly Elvira Ward, a graduate of S. T. C. The lines of the figure were particularly good. An older make-up on the face and a catching of the subtle coloring of the Whistler picture would have made the tableau more effective.

The dainty prettiness of Hopner's "Portrait of a Lady" was well portrayed by Arloa Burgin of Bethany. The picture was directed by Miss Kathryn Pierson. The small circular frame was effective from the front but not so from the side. The small size of the picture made it difficult to show.

The judge in the tableaux contest was Mrs. Elizabeth Cook Punker of Omaha, Mrs. Bunker, then Elizabeth Cook, a former student of S. T. C., was art supervisor in the Omaha schools until her marriage.

In dramatics, three schools were entered in the finals, Bethany, Trenton, and King City.

Bethany won with an unusual play for a high school group. "The Intruder" has for its theme the fear of death. It is a play of little action but deep feeling. The best work was done by Owen Ross, who played the part of the murderer.

Welcome to Short Course Students

To those who are enrolling today for the first time, the College—Northwest Missouri State Teachers College—extends a hearty greeting. To those who are returning to their Alma Mater, the College extends a welcome home.

It is the hope of the College that your stay may be pleasant as well as profitable. It is the hope that you have come for a definite and worthy purpose and that you will let nothing interfere with that purpose. The College wishes for you the best of success in your work. It stands ready to serve you. Make your needs known.

FINE WEATHER FOR TRACK MEET LEADS TO GENERAL SMASHING OF RECORDS IN BOYS' AND GIRLS' EVENTS

Maysville with 29½ Points and Ridgeway With An Equal Number Win Class A and Class B Cups in Boys' Meet—Eagleville Wins Girls' Meet With 22 Points to Her Credit.

HOW THEY FINISHED

Boys' Track Meet

CLASS A.

Maysville—29½.
Maryville—24½.
Central—20.
Trenton—14.
Liberty—12.
Cameron—11.
Benton—9.
Plattsburg—5.
Savannah—3.
Chillicothe—3.
Albany—3.
Mound City—2.
Lafayette—2.

Maysville with 29½ points and Ridgeway with the same number, led the field and carried home the class A and B championship cups in the sixteenth annual track and field meet of Northwest Missouri held at the College Saturday.

The class A championship was not decided until the final event when Maysville won the half mile relay. Maryville was crowding Maysville in the ranking until this event when Miller, Spoothound lead-off man in this event, was spiked on the start and had to drop out.

"Lon" Wilson, ex-Bearcat, and now coach at Ridgeway, drove his athletes through to a comparatively easy victory, leading his closest opponent, Lathrop, by ten and a half points. Incidentally Smith of Ridgeway copped the individual high-point-man cup given by the College "M" Club, by scoring twenty points.

Second high-point man was Joy of Ravenwood with fourteen and Walker of Lathrop was third for single honors with a close thirteen.

This meet, witnessed by a record crowd, held in clear skies, with but a light breeze blowing, and on a track hardened by the recent rain, was probably the most successful and remarkable one in the history of the Northwest Missouri Association.

Six records were smashed before the onslaught, of perhaps the best aggregation of high school athletes ever assembled on the athletic field of S. T. C.

In fact the only records that weathered the storm were: Sweat's record of 2 minutes, 4 seconds for the half-mile, the record of 26 1-5 seconds for the 220-yard low hurdles made by Criswell of Savannah, the records for the high jump, the running broad jump the discus throw and the half-mile relay. B. Wilcox of Liberty began the orgy of record breaking by lowering his own mark of 23 1-5 seconds for the 220-yard dash 4 of a second, establishing a new record of 22.8 seconds for this event.

In the next race Ungles of Maitland lowered Davenport's record of 54 2-5 seconds for the 440-yard dash to 53 8-10 seconds. This was a remarkable performance considering that Ungles drew a poor position in the starting.

J. Joy of Ravenwood ran the 120-high hurdles in 16.5 seconds lowering the record of Rice, of St. Joseph College, 5 of a second. Rice's record has stood since 1914. Groom, of Maryville, who placed first in this event in the class A group equaled the former record. These were perhaps the classiest hurdle races ever witnessed on the Maryville track.

Wilcox came back in the 100-yard dash and stepped it off in 10.1 seconds. This lowered the record of 10 1-5 seconds established by Noidorp of St.

Joseph Central in 1913 by 1-5 of a second.

The most remarkable record breaking classic of the day was the pole vault. The former record for this event was 10 feet, 9¼ inches established by McReynolds of Trenton in 1924. In the class B vaulting, which attracted more interest than any other single contest held on the field, R. Walker, of Lathrop, cleared the bar at 11 feet 5¼ inches, 8 inches higher than the previous record. Joy of Ravenwood was a close competitor, lacking only one fourth of an inch of equalling Walker's mark. Probably he would have done so had he not been fatigued by the races and high-jump in which he had previously participated. In class A, Ellis of St. Joseph Central vaulted 11 feet. This would have established a new record had it not been for the high marks set by the class B vaulters.

W. Moore of Ridgeway, heaved the shot 43 feet, establishing a new record for the shot-put. The former record was 42 feet, 11¼ inches made by Hlatt of Bethany in 1924.

The medley-relay and the javelin throw are events that were held this spring for the first time at the Northwest Missouri Meet. The records established in these Saturday will stand as such until they are broken in some future meet.

The fastest time in the medley-relay was made by Pattonsburg whose team ran the mile in 3 minutes, 59¼ seconds. Cameron made the fastest time in class A.

M. Henry of Maysville hurled the javelin 146 feet, 6 inches establishing that mark for the javelin-throw. R. Smith, of Ridgeway placed first among the class B spear tossers.

In the running broad-jump L. Robey who jumped 21 feet, carried off first honors in class A for Maryville. The longest jump in class B was 19 feet, 10¼ inches made by Burns of Fairfax.

Stroff, of Trenton, hurled the discus 112 feet, 9 inches lacking only 1 foot, 7 inches of equalling the record established by Hlatt of Bethany in 1924. E. Smith, of Portesque, who made the short throw of 107 feet, 7 inches placed first in class B.

Maysville won the class A half-mile relay, running the 880 yards in 1 minute, 40.7 seconds which is 2.1 seconds slower than the time made by Maryville team in 1923. The class B hunt was one-tenth of a second faster, Pattonsburg running the distance in 1 minute, 40.6 seconds.

The officials of the meet were: General manager—Bert Cooper. Track manager—H. Frank Lawrence.

Starter and referee—John Bunn, K. U.

Head judge of finish—Haley, K. U.

Head field judge—"Pete" Jones, K. U.

Clerk of track events—Forest Froman.

Clerk of field events—"Red" Graham.

Judges of the finish—M. A. Peery, F. G. Shoemaker, Albert Kuchs.

Inspectors—H. T. Phillips, M. W. Wilson, Chas. Price.

Timers—Bert Ralnes, H. O. Ezell, Forest De Bernard.

Announcer—Major Rolf Raynor.

Official scorer—M. E. Seelenman.

Following is the official record of the meet:

Mr. Partch Stays at Harvard Next Year

Mr. C. E. Partch, a member of the college faculty who has been on leave of absence this year and has been taking graduate work at Harvard University, has requested another year's leave of absence in order to complete work for his doctor's degree. Mr. Partch will be granted this additional time by the board of regents. He has had a fellowship offered him next year at Harvard. Two members of the graduate school of Education there have asked Mr. Partch to take classes in their departments.

By assignment of the School of Education of Harvard, Mr. Partch is to make an investigation concerning the vocational inclination and desires of eighth grade graduates. Recently he sent sufficient questionnaires to Leslie Somerville, superintendent of the schools of Nodaway County, to give out to the eighth grade graduates of all the town and rural schools of the county. The work of having these questionnaires filled out is nearly completed, and Mr. Somerville expects to return them soon to Mr. Partch, who will use them in compiling a report for future work in vocational guidance and will probably be used in connection with his research work for his doctor's dissertation. This is the first investigation of its nature to be conducted with grade and rural children.

LITERARY ENTRIES BETTER THAN USUAL

Cameron, St. Joseph Central, Bethany, and Gallatin Takes Home First Place Awards—Hopkins Wins Debate.

Much interest was shown in the literary events in the contests and some excellent work was done.

The essays submitted for the spring contest were of unusual merit. They represented original thinking and showed considerable ability in logical presentation. Most of the ten essays were equally commendable for their evenness of style.

First place was awarded to Fern Ledgerwood of Cameron High School, second place to Freeland Penny of Central High School, St. Joseph, and third place to Frances Remus of Maryville High School.

In extemporaneous speaking St. Joseph Central High School won first place when Selma Goldberg spoke on the Child Labor Amendment. Owen Ross of Bethany won second place with a talk on Japanese. Exclusion from the United States. The other contestants who placed in the finals were Katherine Hulen, Trenton, and V. Herald, Albany.

In oratory Bethany carried off first place when James Wilson gave Patrick Henry's "An Appeal to Arms." V. Herald of Albany won second with "Emmett's Defence Against the Charge of Treason." Lafayette High School of St. Joseph won third place with "Patriotism" by Smith, given by Basil Mitchell. Lloyd McMillan of Maysville placed in the finals.

The preliminaries in orations had twenty-one entries, two of which did not appear. The selections were well chosen and gave evidence of much thought and careful preparation. The delivery was easy and free from restraint and evinced much of the spirit that inspired the originals.

Almost perfect memory work featured the preliminary contests in girls' declamation that were held Thursday morning in Room 301. In general the dramatic type of selection predominated over the lighter humorous type.

From the twenty-eight contestants entered, the four chosen to represent their schools in the finals were: Inez Anderson—Gallatin—"Humoresque," by Fannie Hurst.

Mary Prather—Mound City D. C.

No. 1—"Bobby Shafto."

Neva Wilkerson—Maryville—"Johnny Gets Ready For Company," by Lilian M. Stock.

Lois Gilbert—Savannah—"The Lost Word," by Henry Van Dyke.

In the finals in declamation Gallatin took first place, Mound City second, and Maryville third.

Hopkins carried home in triumph the trophy cup for the winners in debate. This is the second year that Hopkins has won in this event. The Hopkins team, Opal Anderson and Edward Muttli, met the Trenton team, Naomi Campbell and Hugh Drennon, on the question: "Resolved, That the Philippines Should Be Granted Immediate Independence by the United States." The decision was two to one for Hopkins on the negative side of the question.

BETHANY HAS MUSICIANS

Breaks Record in Music Events When Six Firsts are Won—Maryville Orchestra Wins a First.

Excitement ran high at the final contest in music events on Friday night, April 24, while the audience, after having listened for three hours to a varied program of instrumental and vocal music given by high school contestants, awaited the final announcement of the winning schools. There was a great demonstration when Bethany High School carried off six trophy cups, a record-breaking event in the history of the music contests of Northwest Missouri. Maryville High School received the trophy cup as the winner of the Class A orchestra. Gertson High School won the trophy cup for the winning Class B orchestra, and Barnard High School was presented the cup for Class B chorus, which was won without competition.

The names of the events, in which Bethany was awarded first place, with the names of the winning selections, are as follows:

Girls' Quartet: "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" Boltwood
Boys' Quartet: "Kentucky Babe" Gibel
Girls' Glee Club: "De Coppah Moon" Shelley
Boys' Glee Club: "Winter Song" Bullard
Chorus, Class A: "Italia" Donizetti
Band, Class A: "Princess of India" King

It was evident throughout the entire contest that Bethany had winning material. Mr. J. M. Dillinger, director of music in the Bethany High School, is to be congratulated upon the extraordinary results he has obtained from his careful work with these students, and the latter are to be commended upon the excellent manner in which they have co-operated with their instructor. The ensemble work of the different vocal numbers was especially worthy of mention. The voices were well balanced and the selections were within their range so that no strain or effort was evidenced at any time. All the numbers were given a delightful interpretation, and were presented with an ease which gave the audience confidence in the ability of the performers. The Boys' Quartet was especially liked by the audience and was given rousing applause to which they were not allowed to respond with an encore on account of the length of the program. A fitting climax to Bethany's victories and to the evening's performance was the excellent work of the band, which showed the same degree of skill in instrumental ensemble as was displayed in the vocal numbers.

The Maryville High School band, under the direction of Loren Schnabel gave a most creditable performance of King's "The Princess of India." This band ranked higher in instrumentation but was graded lower in interpretation and attack. The band contest for Class A high schools marked a new feature of the music events for this year and was received with enthusiastic approval by the audience.

The evening's program consisted of eighteen numbers, eight of which were given by winners of contests which were held during the morning. Medals and cups were awarded to these contestants at the close of the evening's performance. In the individual contests, the medal for first place in piano went to Dorothy Thompson, Central High School, St. Joseph, who played Chopin's "Scherzo in B flat minor" in a manner which would bring much credit to a more mature performer. Miss Thompson's rating on her work was '94, the highest grade received in the entire music contests.

Vera Saxer, of Bethany High School was a close second with a rating of 93. Miss Saxer gave an excellent rendition of Rubenstein's "Staccato Etude in C." Locke Lee Canady, of Trenton High School, placed third, using the selection the "Concert Etude" of MacDowell. Mildred Tebow, of Maryville High School, who played MacDowell's "Hungarian," won fourth place. There were ten entries in the piano contest which was under the direction of Mr. T. H. Annett, head of the piano department of the College Conservatory of Music.

In the violin contest, Benny Alex, of St. Joseph Central, was awarded the medal for first place with a most brilliant interpretation of Vieuxtemps' "Concerto No. 2." Mr. Alex was rated 94 on his performance. Alma Prater, of (Continued on Page Two)

Constitution Amended At Business Session

At the business meeting of the Northwest Missouri High School Association held at the College Saturday morning, L. J. Zeigler of Maryville was elected to head the association for the coming year. L. A. Zeigler of Stanberry was elected vice-president; and Fred E. Vandersloot of Benton, St. Joseph, Secretary. J. C. Godby of Plattburg was elected for a three year term on the Board of Control and Howard Leech of Rockport was elected to that body for one year to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of one of the members.

Two amendments to the constitution were adopted at this meeting. The first one was to amend rule 9, section 4, page 6, to read: "No person having played on a college or academy team shall be eligible to compete in similar high school contests"; then to strike out the words "town team" in that section making it possible for a high school athlete to play on his local town team without losing his eligibility to compete in high school contests.

The other amendment was: "To strike out the first two paragraphs of the separate leaflet of amendments." This does away with the compulsory scheduling of foot-ball games and with the awarding of foot-ball championships in the Northwest Missouri district and in sub-districts of this territory.

The paragraphs of the constitution stricken out are:

1. The Board of Control shall each year at the time of the annual meeting of the Association or within two weeks thereafter appoint a manager for foot-ball. The foot-ball manager shall divide the Association territory into four sub-districts for foot-ball purposes. This division shall be made according to railroad facilities and shall include in each district approximately one-fourth of the schools that have entered for foot-ball. He shall have power to arrange schedules to determine sub-district championship in foot-ball.

2. The manager shall appoint a chairman in each sub-district who shall call a meeting of the coaches or managers of all schools that desire to participate in foot-ball in the Association, such meeting to be held the first or second Saturday in September. A schedule of at least four games to be played by not later than the last Saturday in November shall be arranged at this meeting. Such schedule shall be arranged by agreement by casting lots.

The association voted to recommend to the Board of Control that the question for debate in the Northwest Missouri Debating League be a different one from the question debated in the State League.

Seventy-Seven Enter Agriculture Contests

Bethany, with a total score of 6810 points, won the Class A cup in grain judging. Trenton, scoring 6740 points was second highest and Albany, scoring 6735, placed third.

The class B cup was awarded to Sheridan, which scored 6470 points; Sheridan was the only Class B entry in the grain judging. However, their score was higher than many of the Class A entries.

Kent Brough of Bethany, who scored 2320 points, held the highest individual ranking in either class. In Class A, Cecil Hill of Grant City was second and Louis Lippert of Bethany, third. Their scores were 2310 and 2300 respectively. The individual winner in Class B was Guy Wilson of Sheridan. His score was 2190.

Nine schools with a total of 44 contestants were entered in the grain judging contest. All of the contestants this year were boys. In 1924, several girls competed in this event; in fact, the individual winners in both classes were girls.

The grains used in judging were the various classes of corn, oats, wheat, soy beans, and clover seed.

In the stock judging, Albany won first place in Class A and Hopkins carried off the honors in Class B. Albany scored 1658 points and Hopkins 1348.

In choosing the winning team, the three individuals having the highest ranking were selected. Those who made the Albany team were: C. Scott, score 586; C. Howell, score 539; H. Giles, score 531. The Hopkins team was made up as follows: K. Mendenhall, score 492; K. Nally, score 456; and C. Corwin, score 400.

Eleven schools competed in the stock judging contest. Of these, nine were in Class A and two in Class B. A total of thirty-three individuals took part in the two groups.

Owing to the inclement weather Friday morning, it was impossible to take the teams to the various farms outside of Maryville where the stock is kept. The draft mules, draft mares, brood sows, gilts, dairy cows, and sheep were brought to the college barn and judged there. In the afternoon the contestants were taken to the Bellows Farm, south of Maryville, where they judged the baby beaves, young bulls, aged bulls, and beef cows.

The towns entered in the stock judging and their rankings are as follows: Class A—Albany, 1658; Maryville, 1510; Ridgeway, 1486; Maysville, 1311; Smithville, 1401; Grant City, 1382; Pattonburg, 1331; Cameron, 1260. Class B—Hopkins, 1348; Sheridan, 939. J. Ross Fleetwood, Nottaway County Farm Agent, acted as judge in the Agricultural Contest.

Ten Schools Enter Commercial Contests

Ten schools entered the contests in shorthand and typewriting, which were conducted Saturday morning, in the library. The grading was done by P. Omega Pi members and students of the Commerce Department.

Winners in the typewriting and shorthand contests are as follows:

Typewriting Class A (Novice)
1st. William Spoor, Maryville—58.6 words per minute.

2nd. Winifred Canady, Robidoux—54.1 words per minute.

Class B (Senior)
1st. Jean Orr, Richmond—65 words per minute.

2nd. Faye Bush, Robidoux—64.75 words per minute.

School teams to enter state contest: Richmond (Senior);

Maryville (Junior);

Shorthand Class A (Juniors)
1st. Winifred Canady, Robidoux—99.6 per cent.

2nd. Pauline Beary, Richmond—99.3 per cent.

3rd. Hilah Greer, Robidoux—99 per cent.

4th. Harold Lee Yates, Maryville—99 per cent.

Class B (Senior)
1st. Faye Bush, Robidoux—99.8 per cent.

2nd. Leona Tuck, Robidoux—98.4 per cent.

3rd. Esther Miles, Robidoux—97.6 per cent.

Gold medals were awarded for first place in both shorthand and typewriting and silver medals for second place. The Gregg Publishing Company awarded the two gold medals in the shorthand contest and the college furnished the silver medals.

ed the two gold medals in typewriting and the four silver medals. Penants were given to the winning teams, who will enter the State Contest at Columbia, May 8. W. N. Long and E. E. Burton of the Underwood Typewriting Company, C. F. Kemp of the Remington Company, and J. F. Keenan and H. M. Anderson of the L. C. Smith Company, were in Maryville to attend the contests and to offer any service needed in the repairing of machines used by the contestants.

Home Ec. Contests Have Many Entries

Eleven groups were entered in the Home Economics contest, six vocational and five non-vocational. In the vocational contests two girls worked together and planned and served a meal for a family consisting of a mother, father, grandmother, a child of 3 years of age, and a boy of 16. This meal was served without a maid. In the non-vocational contest three girls worked together in each group and their problem was to prepare a meal for a family of four. This meal was to be served with the assistance of a maid.

Although twenty-six girls were at work in the foods laboratory and two girls in the kitchen, the girls all worked with great efficiency and were able to meet all the emergencies which happened to arise while the state planning their meal.

The final results of the foods contests were: Class A—First, Trenton team; second, Maryville team; third, Albany team; Class B—First, St. Joseph Central; second, Tarkio; third was a tie between Excelsior Springs and Plattburg.

In the clothing contests twenty-five dresses were entered. Each girl wore her dress and walked before the judge. She was then judged on her selection of materials; designs and colors as to appropriateness; cost; suitability to person and hygienic qualities; stitches, kind, neatness and appropriateness. The dresses entered were on the whole, unusually appropriate for the high school girl.

The undergarments entered this year were much improved in quality over those entered last year. They were simple in material and design and not over ornate.

The finals for the clothing contests were as follows:

Undergarments, Class A: 1. Virginia Nicholas, Maryville; 2. Ruth Bush, Maryville; 3. Helen Geist, Maryville. Class B: Helen Kunkel, Oregon; 2. Florence Smith, Tarkio; 3. Helen Currie, Tarkio.

Outer garments (dresses) Class A: 1. Margaret Wall, Richmond; 2. Helen Bagby, Mound City; 3. Virginia Nicholas, Maryville.

Class B: 1. Lorraine Holt, Excelsior Springs; 2. Mary Margaret

College Bus Is Running Again

It's with us again. Once more the "College Bus," so familiar last summer and which often proved a friend in need when it was "just simply too hot" to walk that 440 yards of concrete commonly known to S. T. C. students as the "long walk," or when a sudden shower of rain caught us downtown without our umbrella, or rubbers about ten minutes before time for that daily session with Dr. Keller, is back on the job again. Once more it piles between here and the various points in town. It leaves the College hourly as it did last summer and returns a few minutes before each class period. The fare is still ten cents a ride. In fact the only change is in the management. It is now owned and operated by A. N. Palmer, not the A. N. Palmer with whom the commerce students are so well acquainted, but A. N. Palmer of Sheridan. Formerly it was owned by George Aley of Maryville.

Miss Ellen Bachelor of Manhattan, Kansas, served as judge in the Home Economics contests. Miss Bachelor is Assistant Home Demonstration Leader in the Kansas State Agricultural College and was Dietitian in a base hospital in France during the World War. The College was fortunate in its selection of a judge of such wide experience.

The Winning Essay

What I Would Say If I Were A Judge To Whom An Offender Offered As His Excuse, "I Do Not Believe Laws."

When you make the statement, "I do not believe in laws," do you make it with a thorough knowledge of the meaning and origin of laws, and after careful consideration of the purpose for which laws are made? Can you imagine what kind of social life would exist in a country where there were no laws? On the other hand, can you picture life in "Utopian" state, in which there are laws, and in which every citizen knows and obeys them?

For a definition of law, our dictionary tells us that it is a "rule of action established by authority." In our every day terms, however, we might define law as "the method applied by the majority of the people in a country for the social welfare, protection, and advancement of all the people living there." Law is, therefore, the basis of our civilization; it is upon this foundation that man has built such institutions as the home, the school, the state, and even the nation. It is by our laws that we are able to exist as a group; hence it is by laws that the human species is distinguished from the lower types of animals.

The origin of law, therefore, is in the mind and heart of man, and it is a product of years of deep thinking, hard experience, and often cruel suffering. It is the expression of man's sense of justice, and of his innate desire for equality.

Ever since the world began, men have seen the need for law, and it is for this reason that among our earliest known peoples some system of law prevailed. Tracing the civilization of men from the tribal on up to the monarchical forms of government, we see that laws were needed and used more and more. It is true, that monarchs often used law as a scheme to gain for themselves better social position, more luxuries, and a superfluity of wealth. But laws, in our present day interpretation, and particularly in the interpretation of our own United States ever since her birth in 1776, do not exist because some tyrannical ruler wishes to keep his people in subjection, but because all the people, realizing the need of co-ordination in order to have protection and progress, devise some means by which the group as a whole may advance. They exist in order that the poorer, or less influential, classes may be able to compete with the classes more favored financially and politically.

You, individually, as a citizen of the United States, might, for instance, use the Initiative and Referendum to petition Congress that henceforth there shall be no laws. If enough voters would sign your petition, Congress would be forced to submit it to popular vote. If the voters would not sign your petition, you would have to come to this rather hard but sane conclusion: you are only one person among 105,000,000 persons in the United States. Your single vote, therefore, is very small when compared with the total number. Your power will be noticed only when you co-ordinate it with that of the group. If, however, the group is not of your opinion, you are privileged to use your influence by speech and press, without interference from anyone.

Then, too, along with your political privileges, think of the protection that law affords you. Try to make a mental picture of the conditions that would accompany a lawless state here today. You might awaken one morning to find that your neighbor had carried away your money, jewels, or other possessions, during the night. Unless you were stronger physically than he, you could scarcely hope to recover your property. Deeds to land, bonds, and stocks would suddenly become valueless if there were no law to assure their validity. Banks could fail at will, while rich bankers escaped with the savings of thousands of poor workmen. Prosperity and progress would be hindered or stopped altogether, for what motive would there be for working when things could be had for the taking; and how could men find time to work if they were busy all the time protecting property? They would not even feel safe to sleep for fear of being killed. Religion, education, science, and culture of all kinds would be forgotten in a desperate struggle for existence. Then would prevail in truth a "survival of the fittest" regime, but in the selection of those who survive, brute strength, craft, and cunning, rather than intelligence and reason, would be the determining factors.

Russia gives us an example of just such a country. There the people have purchased their so-called "freedom," but at what a price! War, bloodshed, disease, cold, and starvation in a land of plenty—all go into the purchase price! No laws! Property, food, wives, daughters—everything belongs to the state. Her only hope is law—same, intelligent law, brought about as a result of education, mutual understanding between classes, and a development of national consciousness and conscience.

Picture to yourself, on the other hand, a country in which law occupies the foremost place in the mind of its citizens. What a paradise life there would be! There would be no need for police, prisons, or reformatories. One would always feel that his life and the lives of his family and friends, as well as his property and that of his friends were safe. Socialists would even forget their theories because employers would be altruistic enough to divide their profits with their employees. Contrast such a state with a state of lawlessness, and tell me which you prefer.

Finally, I would not have understood that I wish individualism suppressed, that is, common-sense individualism. Life without it would indeed be monotonous and dull. But when the individuals of a group compromise, that is, give up certain of their own desires in order that others may prosper, then a true democracy exists. It is the combined thoughts of the people that make or mar a government. So when you say that you do not believe in laws, consider living without any. If that still appeals to you, go to some isolated place where your wishes will conflict with those of no one else, and where you will know no restraint except by economic and natural laws. But as long as you are living under the United States flag, as long as you are enjoying the protection offered to you by her courts her armies, and her navies, you are expected to live up to the laws that her people have made. And do not accept the United States as your country, do not swear allegiance to her glorious flag, do not wear the holy emblem of her justice on your heart, unless you wish to support the thing that has made her what she is today! That thing is LAW!

—Fern Ledgerwood

Miss James Writes

Pi Omega Pi fraternity has recently received a letter from Miss Minnie James who is on leave of absence this year to attend Columbia University. One of the most interesting parts of the letter was an exhibition at the Public Library of original manuscripts and drawings of English authors from the Pierpont Morgan Library. Miss James says, "I have been in to see them twice, but have not completed the exhibit. Some of it is not so easily read as shorthand but it is most interesting. The signature 'John Milton Junior' is on a document of legal importance. The warrant for John Bunyan's arrest in 1674 is fairly readable. Jonathan Swift kept a note book, small and ever so neatly. I copied a prayer, unpublished, written by Samuel at 11 p. m. on January 1, 1784. Pope seems to have as much trouble as an ordinary mortal with his Muse. His poems are scratched through and corrected until even I could see how he worked. Thomas Gray kept the most beautiful note book I have ever seen. His writing is small, even, and clear. It might easily be mistaken for a steel engraving.

"Perhaps Keats was as interesting as any of them. He wrote legibly. The original dedication of Kendymon was not printed. There were two pictures of him, one, a handpainted likeness, and the other drawn by a friend at three o'clock in the morning during Keats' last illness. The friend drew it to keep awake. There was a lock of his hair cut by William Haslam before Keats left England in 1820. Also there was his will, just a few lines, leaving 'my chest of books divide among my friends.' There is so much to tell but no time."

The Why of the Tunnel

Much curiosity has been aroused by the work which has been in progress for the last few weeks in the tearing up of the cement walk in front of the College and the building of a cement tunnel under it. As may have been guessed by the "intelligent few," this tunnel is to carry the heating pipes from the main building to the new gymnasium, and the top of it when complete will be the sidewalk leading to the new gymnasium. The original plan for the heating of the new building provided for a separate heating system and for the installation of a new boiler. It was found after estimating the expense that a connection could be made with the heating plant of the main building through a cement tunnel for practically the same amount of money. This would at the same time, provide a sidewalk to the gymnasium, relieve the cost of maintaining a heating plant there, and give extra room in the new building for other activities. The gymnasium will be ready for occupancy by the first of June. The brick work will be completed by next week. Plans are now being made for placing the athletic field west of the building.

Registrar Goes to Colorado Meeting

Mr. W. A. Rickenbrode, Registrar of the College, attended the meeting of the American Association of College Registrars at Boulder, Colorado, April 14-17. This association meets annually for the purpose of discussing general problems which come up in connection with the work of the registrars in their various institutions. One problem which has received considerable attention for the last few years is the matter of provision for a universal transcript blank. Such a blank would greatly reduce the amount of work in checking over transcripts in transferring credit from one college to another, but it seems impossible of accomplishment on account of the many different departments of the larger colleges and universities, such as law, medicine, and theology, which smaller schools do not have. These departments require their own particular kinds of transcripts, and the association has not been able to work out any form of transcript which could be universally adopted.

The attendance at this meeting was made up largely of representatives from state institutions and the larger universities. Very few registrars from private schools were present. All of the state schools of Missouri were represented except Cape Girardeau and Springfield.

Mr. Rickenbrode said that he saw at this meeting Miss Tessa Degan, an S. T. C. graduate of the class of 1919. Miss Degan holds the position of registrar of the new State Normal School at Alamosa, Colorado, which will start its career on June 9, under the able direction of President Ira Richardson, formerly president of Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Watkins were shocked last week to hear of the death of Robert, their seven year-old son, in an accident at Kansas City, Monday afternoon, April 20. The little boy was riding a "scooter" and ran into a moving picture mobile, which threw him under the wheels, killing him instantly. Mrs. Watkins, who is an S. T. C. graduate, is known to many here by her maiden name, Alma Hotchkiss.

Who Gets Your Money?

Did you ever stop to ask yourself that question? Are you spending your money for consumption goods, that is, entertainment, luxuries, and a thousand and one little needless things?

Or are you spending your money for production goods, that is, on things that will return you a dividend? Money invested in a College education is investing in production goods for it will bring you good returns. A saving account is buying production goods for it yields you a return on your money.

Your financial success or failure will depend on this question, "Who gets your money?" If you are spending it wisely it will insure your financial independence in the future.

Let us help you to put yourself on your payroll.

The Stroller

By ????

The Stroller came pretty near falling to get a "colym" because this week he has been almost as busy as a bee. He was Friday night when he had to "boost" visiting girls up on the radiator in the auditorium. About the episode the Stroller wrote a limerick which he thinks would be pretty good if "gladiator" only rhymed with "radiator."

A "gladiator" young fellow named Claire
 Couldn't find his sweet lady a chair,
 So with strength of a gladiator
 Right on to the radiator
 He swung the young lady so fair.
 But that tells only part of the tale—
 "Me, too!" "Me, too!" "Me, too!"
 Came from all sides, so
 "Now this same most obliging young man
 Said, "I'll lift you as fast as I can;"
 So quick as a wink
 Before they could think
 Each lass found herself no place other than.

Where? On the radiator, of course!
 "Treat very often the Stroller gets a letter, but he did get one this week: "My dear Stroller,"
 "My school closes Friday, April 24, so I thought it best to inform the Stroller of my change of address so that I will not miss a single issue of the Courier. I will be at home until June. So please, Mr. Stroller, do not forget to mark me down on your book, Trenton, Missouri."
 Very truly yours,
 Clella T. LeHew.

Bethany Has Musicians

Santa Rosa High School, lost the contest by just one point, her grade being 88. She played "Sonata VI in E major" by Handel. Charles Turney, of the Edgerton High School, won third place with a score of 86 on his playing of Haydn's "Hungarian Dance." Fourth place went to Harold Braun, of the Maryville High School, who also played the "Hungarian Dance" by Haydn.

Lawrence Wray, of the Maryville High School, took first place in the cello contest with a rating of 89 on his presentation of "Grieg's 'To Spring.'" Anita Kalis of Benton High School, St. Joseph, placed second, using as her selection Rubenstein's "Melody in F." There were only the two entries in this contest.

Herbert Gale, of Cameron High School, won the medal for first place in the cornet contest. Mr. Gale scored 90 on his rendition of "Facilita" by Hartmann. Paul Cooper of Central High School, St. Joseph, and Carl Alburn of the Savannah High School tied for second place with the score of 86 points. Paul Neal of Maryville placed fourth with the selection, "Navassar" by Chambers. There were seven entries in the cornet contest. The violin, cornet and cello contests were conducted by Mr. William S. Larson, head of the violin department of the College Conservatory of Music.

Eleven high schools were entered in the girls' quartet contest and three schools competed in the boys' quartet contest. Mr. Luther Richman, head of the voice department of the Conservatory of Music, was in charge of these contests. The different schools which competed in the girls' quartet were as follows: Hopkins, Maryville, Maryville, Gilman City, Trenton, Paducah, Consolidated No. 1, Bethany, Savannah, Oregon, and Rockport. In the final decision, Bethany and Trenton won first and second places, ranking 93 and 92, respectively. Both quartets made an excellent appearance and gave delightful presentations of their selections. The Bethany girls sang "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" by Bolt-

wood, and the quartet from Trenton gave Mohring's "Legends."

The three schools which were entered in the boys' quartet were Maryville, Bethany, and Gilman City. The singing of the Bethany boys was outstanding in this event, the work of Eugene Planck as soloist being particularly noteworthy. The rating of this quartet was 89. The Maryville quartet sang "Lar Board Watch" by Parks, winning second place with a score of 83. Shelley's "De Coppah Moon" was given by the Gilman City boys.

Preliminaries for the chorus, glee club and orchestra events were conducted by Mr. Charles R. Gardier, dean of the music department of the College. Bernard High School was the only entry in Class B chorus. This chorus gave the selection "In Spain" by Baum, in a very commendable manner. Maryville and Bethany were the only chorus entries in Class A. Bethany gave "Italia" by Donizetti and carried off first honors with a score of 90. Maryville's selection, "With Sheathed Swords" by Costa was well presented.

Bethany, Maryville, Oregon, Tarkio, Consolidated No. 1, Mound City, Trenton, Rockport, and Bernard were entered in the girls' glee club. Bethany, singing "De Coppah Moon" by Shelley, and Maryville, using the "Waltz Song" and Chorus from Faust, by Gounod, were outstanding in the preliminary events and were chosen to go to the finals. The Bethany girls were winners in the final contest with a score of 89.

Bethany was the only entry in the boys' glee club contest. The Bethany boys sang Bullard's "Winter Song" in a very delightful and effective manner.

Maryville and Trenton were the only representatives in the Class A orchestra. Maryville, using "Zampa" by Harold, placed first in the finale with a grade of 84. The Trenton musicians did excellent work in their rendition of Mendelssohn's "Ruy Blas." Hopkins, Edgerton, Ravenwood, Eagleville, Rosendale and Rockport were entered in the Class B orchestra contest. Edgerton and Rockport placed first and second respectively in the preliminary contests, and Edgerton won first place in the finals with a grade of 84.

About six hundred students were entered in the music contests. The difficult matter of handling so great a number of contestants in one day was well managed by the music department of the College. The judge for the contests in violin, cornet, cello, orchestra and band was Mr. Herbert Gray, of the University School of Music, Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Gray, in discussing the contest, said that, on the whole, it was one in which quality of talent, thorough instruction, and much serious study and effort were displayed. Miss Angie Middleton, of Omaha, Nebraska, who is supervisor of music in Council Bluffs, judged the piano, quartet, chorus and glee club contests.

The announcement of the awards in the art contests were announced at the conclusion of the program of dramatics and tableaux.

Louise Beard of the Benton High School of St. Joseph won first in the poster contest.

In the applied design, Maxine Walker of the Benton High School was ranked first.

Irvin Foreman of the Maryville High School won first place in the representation contest.

The Central High School of St. Joseph was judged as having the best high school annual entered in the contest.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cook Bunker judged all the art work.

the blind old grandfather. The difficulty of the part with its mature emotion was a test of the ability of the actor. Others taking part in the play were Wilma Evans, Juanita Bartels, Vera Saxer, Maurine Kimbrough, Eugene Planck, Earl Brown, and Albert Foster. Miss Kathryn Pierson directed the play.

Trenton High School, in "Glory of the Morning" did good work. This is an Indian play by Gregory. The squaw, "Glory of the Morning," was especially well done by Elnora Torry. Newton Rooks as "Black Wolf" and Ned Williams as "Red Wing" were effective.

One of the outstanding actors was Raleigh Weaver who played the part of "Jerry" in Shute's play of that name put on by the King City High School. His part called for a change of character when he impersonated an old aunt. He was much more effective as the old lady than as the young fellow "Jerry." The whole play was good fun and was well acted. Miss Wave Duncan, a former S. T. C. student, coached the play.

In the preliminaries, six plays were entered: Maryville, Mound City and Rosendale besides the winners.

The Maryville play was "The House Beautiful" by Hanna. It was coached by Miss Mildred Mitchell.

Rosendale, under the direction of Mrs. R. H. Watson gave "Mrs. Pat and the Law" by Aldis.

Mound City played "Tune of a Tune" by Totheroh. Miss Gladys Criswell, who will take her degree at S. T. C. this summer, directed the play.

The judge in the dramatics contest was Mrs. Wilda Spencer Good of Drake University.

Philos Enjoy Spring Picnic

Last Wednesday afternoon the Philomatheans held their spring picnic in a woods four miles west of town.

The party, which consisted of thirty peppy Philos, was conveyed to the scene of their frolics in automobiles immediately after the dismissal of the eighth period classes. There they played games, baseball predominating, and had a general good time, as Philos always do, until 6:30 when a supper consisting of wieners, buns, potato chips, cookies, bananas, and ice cream cones, was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanfield and Mr. Stanfield's mother accompanied the party.

Miss Bass had as her luncheon guests, at the College Cafeteria, Monday, Mrs. M. E. Ford, Miss Dykes, and Mrs. Oliver Bovard. At the luncheon also, were members of the advanced natural dancing class. Mrs. Ford and Miss Dykes talked to the group about English May Day Fetes.

Little Jean Keller entertained at dinner at her home April 25 for the coach and the members of the girl's basketball team of S. T. C., of which team she is mascot.

Frank Tehow, a student at S. T. C., during the fall and winter quarters, left Monday night for El Paso, Texas, where he will remain till his health improves.

Superior Barber Service

We are glad to announce that this week the Thompson Bros. Barber shop and the Noah Thompson Haircut Shop have now been merged. The new shop, located two doors south of the First National Bank, will be known as the Thompson and Sons Barber Shop. We are now in a position to give you the same high class work as in the past and better service than has been possible in the two shops. We especially invite the College women. We believe we can please them!

Come in and see us.

DUBOIS—PIERPOINT.

Inez DuBois and J. E. Pierpoint, students of S. T. C., were married at Leon, Iowa, Saturday, April 11. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce DuBois of Grant City, and was graduated from the high school there in 1924. She entered S. T. C. last summer. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. J. E. Pierpoint, a Skidmore physician. He has been a student here since 1923. He is a member of the College M. club and won his letter in the 1925 basketball season.

RILEY—ACKLIN.

Ruby Riley, former student of S. T. C., now primary teacher in the Elmo schools, was married April 18 to Glenn Acklin.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS.

A Junior Band for the Excelsior Springs High School has been made possible through the support of the School Board and Chamber of Commerce. The Band is composed of sixty-two members; eighteen of which are girls. Mr. Ed. Scheetz will be the director.

"The Rush Light" by Monica Barry O'Shea was given at the Dramatic Club last Tuesday evening. The play is a clever Irish Drama. Lois Lawson acted as director. The cast of characters was: The mother, Hallie Foley; wife, Doris Schuler; soldier, Dollie Rea Logan.

NEWMAN CLUB.

At the Newman Club meeting last Tuesday Miss Terhune talked on the old cathedrals of Europe.

She talked principally about the cathedrals of France, describing the Triple Basilica at Lourde, at which she was fortunate enough to be present for the Feast of the Assumption.

She also described the cathedral Notre Dame de la Garde and the cathedral at Rheims, telling of the architecture and beautiful interiors of these very old cathedrals.

She described the little villages and hamlets in which a traveller can always find an interesting old cathedral.

The club members sang several songs together, after which a short business meeting was held.

Miss DeLuce has had news that Miss Dow, who is completing her work for a Masters Degree at Columbia University, New York, has had her thesis "L'abbé de Saint Pierre," a reformer in education, accepted and commented upon very highly.

Miss DeLuce, who is chairman of the Art section of the Twentieth Century Club, gave an interesting report on the art of this district, at the meeting of the club, April 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Williams announce the birth of a daughter Eudora Anne, born April 18, 1925.

Sincerity Messages To Be Enjoyed

A really good advertisement is something more than simply a description and price list. For it has interest and individuality—personality, one might well say.

It personifies the Company, it breathes the human element of the Store, it talks interestingly of personal needs, not boastfully but confidently and sincerely.

You, friend reader, find a certain individuality in our advertisements. They are plain, simple, straight-forward, believable. A price named is a worth stated.

Discounting and speculating is never necessary when you read our advertisements. Read them regularly! Get the habit!
